story development for interactive media

narrative activity #1

Date Assigned: September 5, 2006
Date Due: September 12, 2006

Assignment:
Describe an event or occasion from your own life where you went from being a passive observer to an active participant. How did that shift affect the way you experienced the event? Your example could be something simple, like going from being a passenger in a car to being its driver, or something complex like watching versus participating in a public or theatrical event.

Requirements:
- Minimum ½ page in length
- Hand in physical copy 12Sep06
- Maintain electronic copy for your class portfolio
